

FINANCIAL SERVICES (FNS)

FNS 203E Principles of Finance (4 Credits)

This course is an introduction to the theoretical and practical uses of financial management principles with emphasis on financial analysis, decision-making, and communication. Topics covered include financial ratios, along with concepts of risk, return and value. Emphasis is also placed on working capital management, cost of capital, capital structure, and long-term financing strategies. Offered as needed

Department: Business, Management Leaders

Pre-Requisites: ACC 304E.

Co-Requisites: None

Fees: None

FNS 203X Principles of Finance (4 Credits)

This course is an introduction to the theoretical and practical uses of financial management principles with emphasis on financial analysis, decision making, and communication. Topics covered include financial ratios, along with concepts of risk, return and value. Emphasis is also placed on working capital management, cost of capital, capital structure, and long-term financing strategies.

Department: Business, Management Leaders

Pre-Requisites: ACC 304X.

Co-Requisites: None

Fees: None